NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is weak the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to biliousness, loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, dizziness, headache, backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Mr. Louis Pare, of Quebec, writes: "For years after my health began to fail, my head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomach was sore all the time, while everything I would eat would seem to lie heavy like lead in my stomach. The doctors claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me, and although I took their powders regularly yet I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and stop taking the doctors' medicine. She bought me a bottle and we soon found that I began to improve, so I kept up the treatment. I took on flesh, my stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me and I certainly give it highest praise."

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."

To gain knowledge of your own body—in sickness and health—send for the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A book of 1000 pages. Send 31 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE NEW YORK TRAGEDY.

The character of Stanford White who was shot and killed by Harry Thaw in the Madison Square (New York) roof garden last Monday night, continues to be a chief feature in this perhaps the greatest of New York's sensation.

Anthony Comstock in an interview yesterday said:

"Thaw came to me about 10 days ago and told me stories of Stanford White of a very startling character and asked me to investigate, which I did. I tried to hire a room or apartment in the tower of Madison Square Garden, but was unable to do so. I tried in other various ways to get evidence against the man, but he must have received some inkling as to what was going on, as he left off coming to the tower. I understood that he hired rooms elsewhere, and we were unable at the time to locate them. Mr. Thaw seemed very much put out when I told him we had not been able to accomplish much or really anything, but that I could not doubt do so if given enough time."

A sensational development of the day was the statement by the district attorney's office that White went to the Madison Square Roof Garden on Monday night for the purpose of keeping an engagement with two of the chorus girls and getting an introduction to a new one.

H. E. Lynke, a lawyer, called at the corner's office yesterday with an order from Mrs. Stanford White and obtained all of the jewelry and personal effects found on White when he was shot. Chief among these was a heavy solid gold ring said to be worth not less than $3,000. In his relief was portrayed two nude women and a nude man. It is said to have been one of the choicest articles in Mr. White's vast collection.

As was stated in yesterday's Gazette, Stanford White's life was shortened only two years, at the most, by Thaw's act last Monday night, in the opinion of the physician who performed the autopsy upon his body. The result of the autopsy, which was made public yesterday, shows that White was a sufferer from Bright's disease, incipient tuberculosis and fatty degeneration of the liver. The physician declares that White could not have lived more than two years in view of his physical condition, even had he not been struck down by Thaw's bullets.

It has been learned that previous to Thaw's marriage with Miss Nesbit he was forced to compromise a suit which she was about to enter against him. It is also said that Stanford White had urged Miss Nesbit to take such action. After the suit had been compromised and Thaw married to the young woman, his hatred of White became intense.

Little Girl Assaulted by Negro. Charged with having assaulted Elsie West, a girl of 12 years, who had been sent out by the Children's Aid Society, of Oxford, Pa., to spend a summer in the country near Red Turkey, Md., Noble Spencer, a negro, yesterday barely escaped with his life from an infuriated mob which was scouring the country in search of the man who had committed the brutal outrage. Only the cunning of Constable Harry Hall enabled him to baffle his pursuers until the negro was landed safely in the Chester county jail, at West Chester, Pa.

The crime was committed at Greist's Fording just on the Mason and Dixon line Monticell Brown, ex-Commissioner of Lancaster county, was riding near the ford when he heard someone moaning in the bushes. He investigated and found a girl lying there more dead than alive. She was unconscious and there was every evidence of an assault. Brown took her at once to Rising Sun, where she recovered her senses sufficiently to tell that her assailant was a negro, but could give no description of him. Immediately armed possees began scouring the country for the assailant, but without success.

Yesterday morning, however, the girl was able to describe the criminal, and as a result Noble Spencer was arrested while working within a quarter of a mile of the place where the outrage was committed. It is believed that he had returned to work immediately after the assault and remained there while the possees were looking for the perpetrator.

When he was arrested Hall says the negro made no resistance, and confessed to having committed the outrage, giving as his only excuse that he "did it because he felt like it." Hall was fearful lest those who were thirsting for vengeance should discover his capture, so he spirited Spencer away with all possible haste.

Not until they had reached Oxford did the Nottingham residents learn of the arrest. Every effort was made to prevent the criminal reaching jail, citizens even going so far as to telephone to residents of Oxford asking them to hold the prisoner until they could get to him. A mob quickly gathered in that place and surrounded the train, cursing and threatening the alleged criminal. Cries of "Lynch him! Lynch him!" were heard everywhere. Women spat upon the negro through the car window as he covered in fear by the side of the constable. Before the feeling reached a crisis, however, the train pulled out and Long Tennessee Fight. For twenty years W. L. Rawls, of Belle, Tenn., fought nasal catarrh. He writes: "The swelling and soreness inside my nose was fearful, till I began applying Bucklen's Arnica Salve to the sore surface; this caused the soreness and swelling to disappear, never to return." Best salve in existence. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists.

ROSENFELD'S.

Making It Easy and Safe.

This is the easiest store in Alexandria to get money back from in case you want it. In some Washington stores, as you doubtless know, the policy is to discourage exchanges and refunds. They all advertise money back if you want it, but you have to want it pretty badly to get it; badly enough to go through a great deal of red tape and bother. Not here. We pride ourselves on making it easy for you. We ask no questions, make no comments. It is done as a matter of your right, not as a favor.

Corsets.

We only keep the best such as W. B. C. B., a la Spirite and American Lady. Is there a woman who does not know these famous makes?
